What Will Be Similar to 6th Grade?

- Advisory — the approach and role
- Focus on developmental needs
- Academic platforms and philosophy
 - Husky Hub
 - Google Classroom
 - Still an important, low-stakes training ground focused on growth, not perfection.

What Will Be Different?

- Advisory size (~11 per class)
- More teachers, more transitions
- More new students and changing groupings throughout the day
- Mixed grade-level classes
- Next step in growing independence and self-advocacy

What Will Be Different?

- Academic expectations and workload
 - Assignments posted in Husky Hub
 - Open gradebook; letter grades
- MacBook Air replaces the iPad
- Choices in course selection
- Interscholastic athletics (ending at 3:20) replaces P.E.
- Lunch

Academic Expectations

- Gradual transition in September
- Teaching/practicing organization and time management
- Workload — 1-1.5 hours of homework (they are ready)
- Short-term stumbles/accountability produce long-term gains.
- Independence and self-advocacy — communicating directly with students

Husky Hub — Assignment Center

- Week at a glance
- This is the student's job — part of incremental growth

Open Gradebook

- Shows grade details
- Missing assignments
- Info from teachers
- Use it for good!

It is not the grade that matters, but the responsibility, ownership, and accountability.
